Extraordinary
indoor transportation.

Tailored to you.

Great cities deserve unprecedented innovation.

A day brings a series of movements: From home to work to seeing friends and back again. Being between destinations is a part of modern life.

As cities grow higher, we should bring the same attention to indoor transport, we used to reserve for our trips outside.

At Liftline, our transport solutions are made with the daily user as the first priority. It should feel great to be in the space. No matter if you are on an escalator or in an elevator, no matter if the building is public or private. Often you do not notice the technology at all. A service lift or an entrance system succeeds, when it runs frictionless and blends into the overall interior.

For us, it is about supporting the rhythm of the city. We know that indoor journeys are the best, if they feel like a natural part of the bigger picture.

Quality at every step.

This is how we make the journey memorable.

3 principles that guide our work.

1

Seamlessly. Easy.

You should never stress about indoor transport. Better to make it a pause in itself. A moment to take in air, before the next thing on your agenda. Gather a bit of energy, while you get to where you need to be.

2

We are conscious about space.

We design our solutions, so they feel comfortable for the user, while the dimensions work with the rest of the building.

3

Fast between floors is just the beginning.

Of course you don't want it to take too long. For us, it is equally important that the elevator or escalator moves smoothly without any disturbances.

Smart technology connects today's cities like never before.

We have been at the forefront of that transformation for more than three decades.

Our track record.

Since 1985 our team has provided indoor transport solutions across 20 countries. Our clients span from private residences to corporate offices and large-scale public projects such as hospitals and universities.

Remarkable architecture.

Supported by us.

We are here
to make your vision
come to life.

The skill set we bring to the table.

Listening comes first.

We spend time on understanding the project in full. Before the design process we visit the building site to make sure everything is in order and agree on suitable materials.

Our range of technology partners ensure that we can offer a transport solution that fits your space and needs.

Finally, we complete a cycle of internal tests to ensure that the product meets the highest levels of safety & efficiency.

Data shapes the solution.

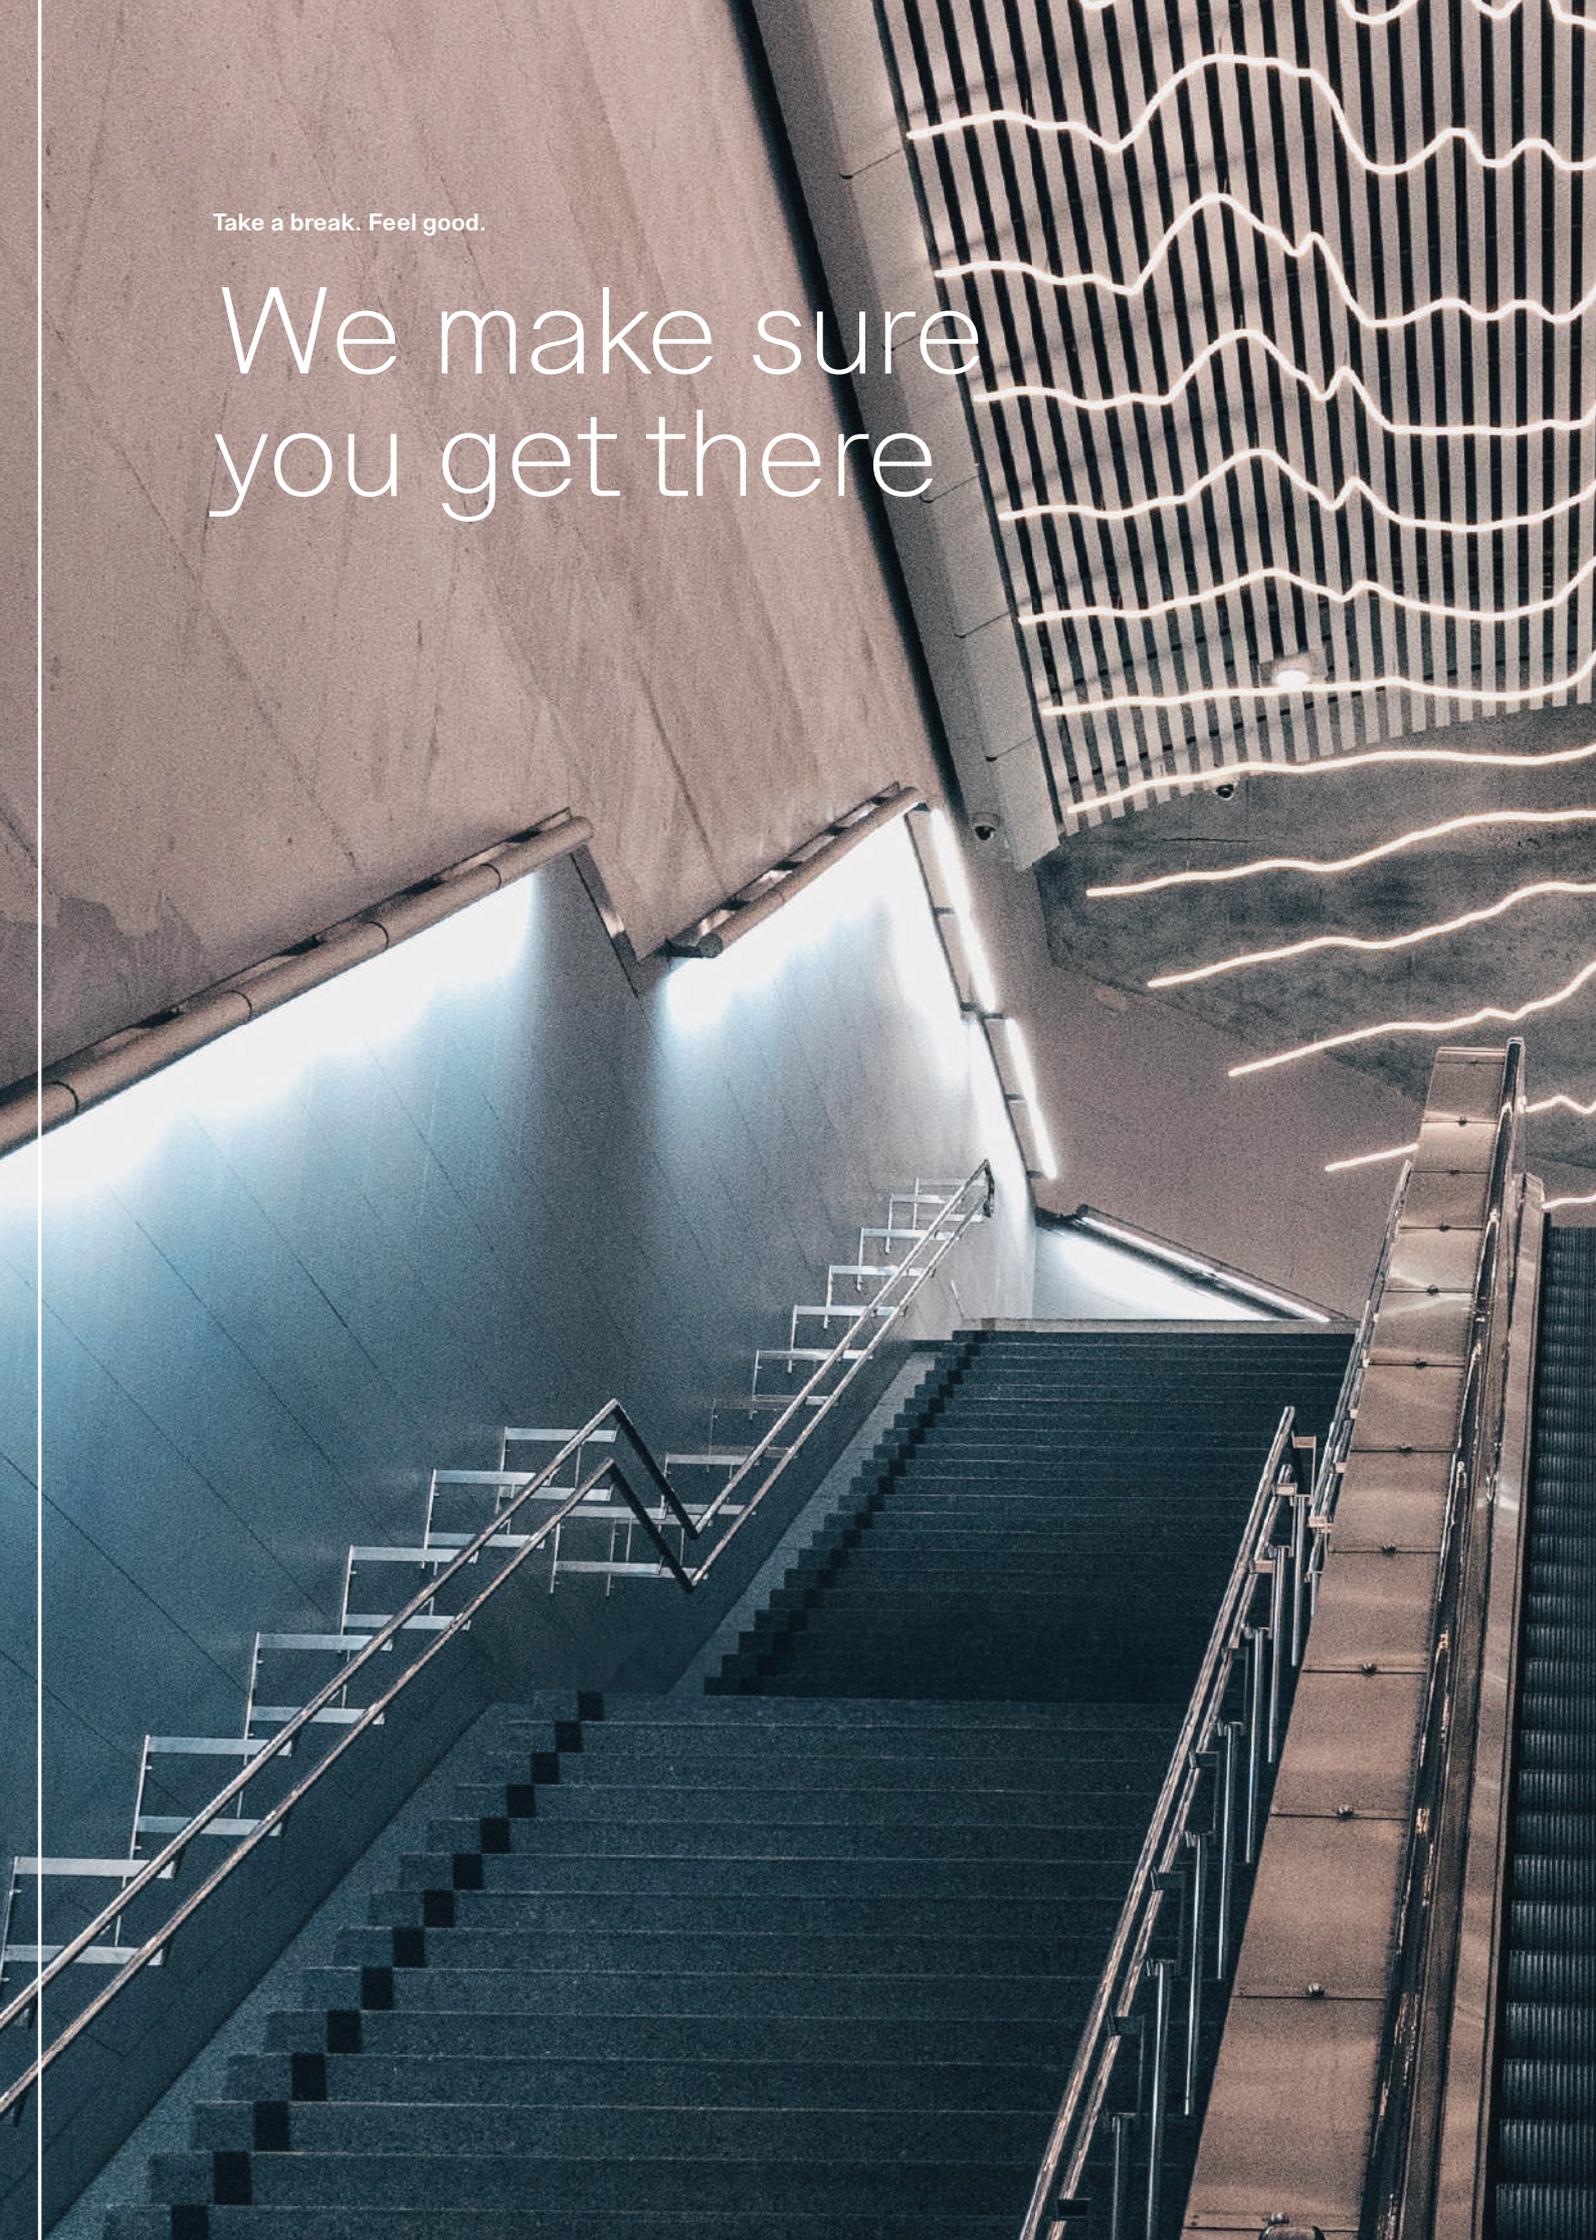

We design elevators and escalators based on data that covers the expected population flow in the building. A high number of users will require an overall system capacity high enough to reduce waiting time and ease traffic.

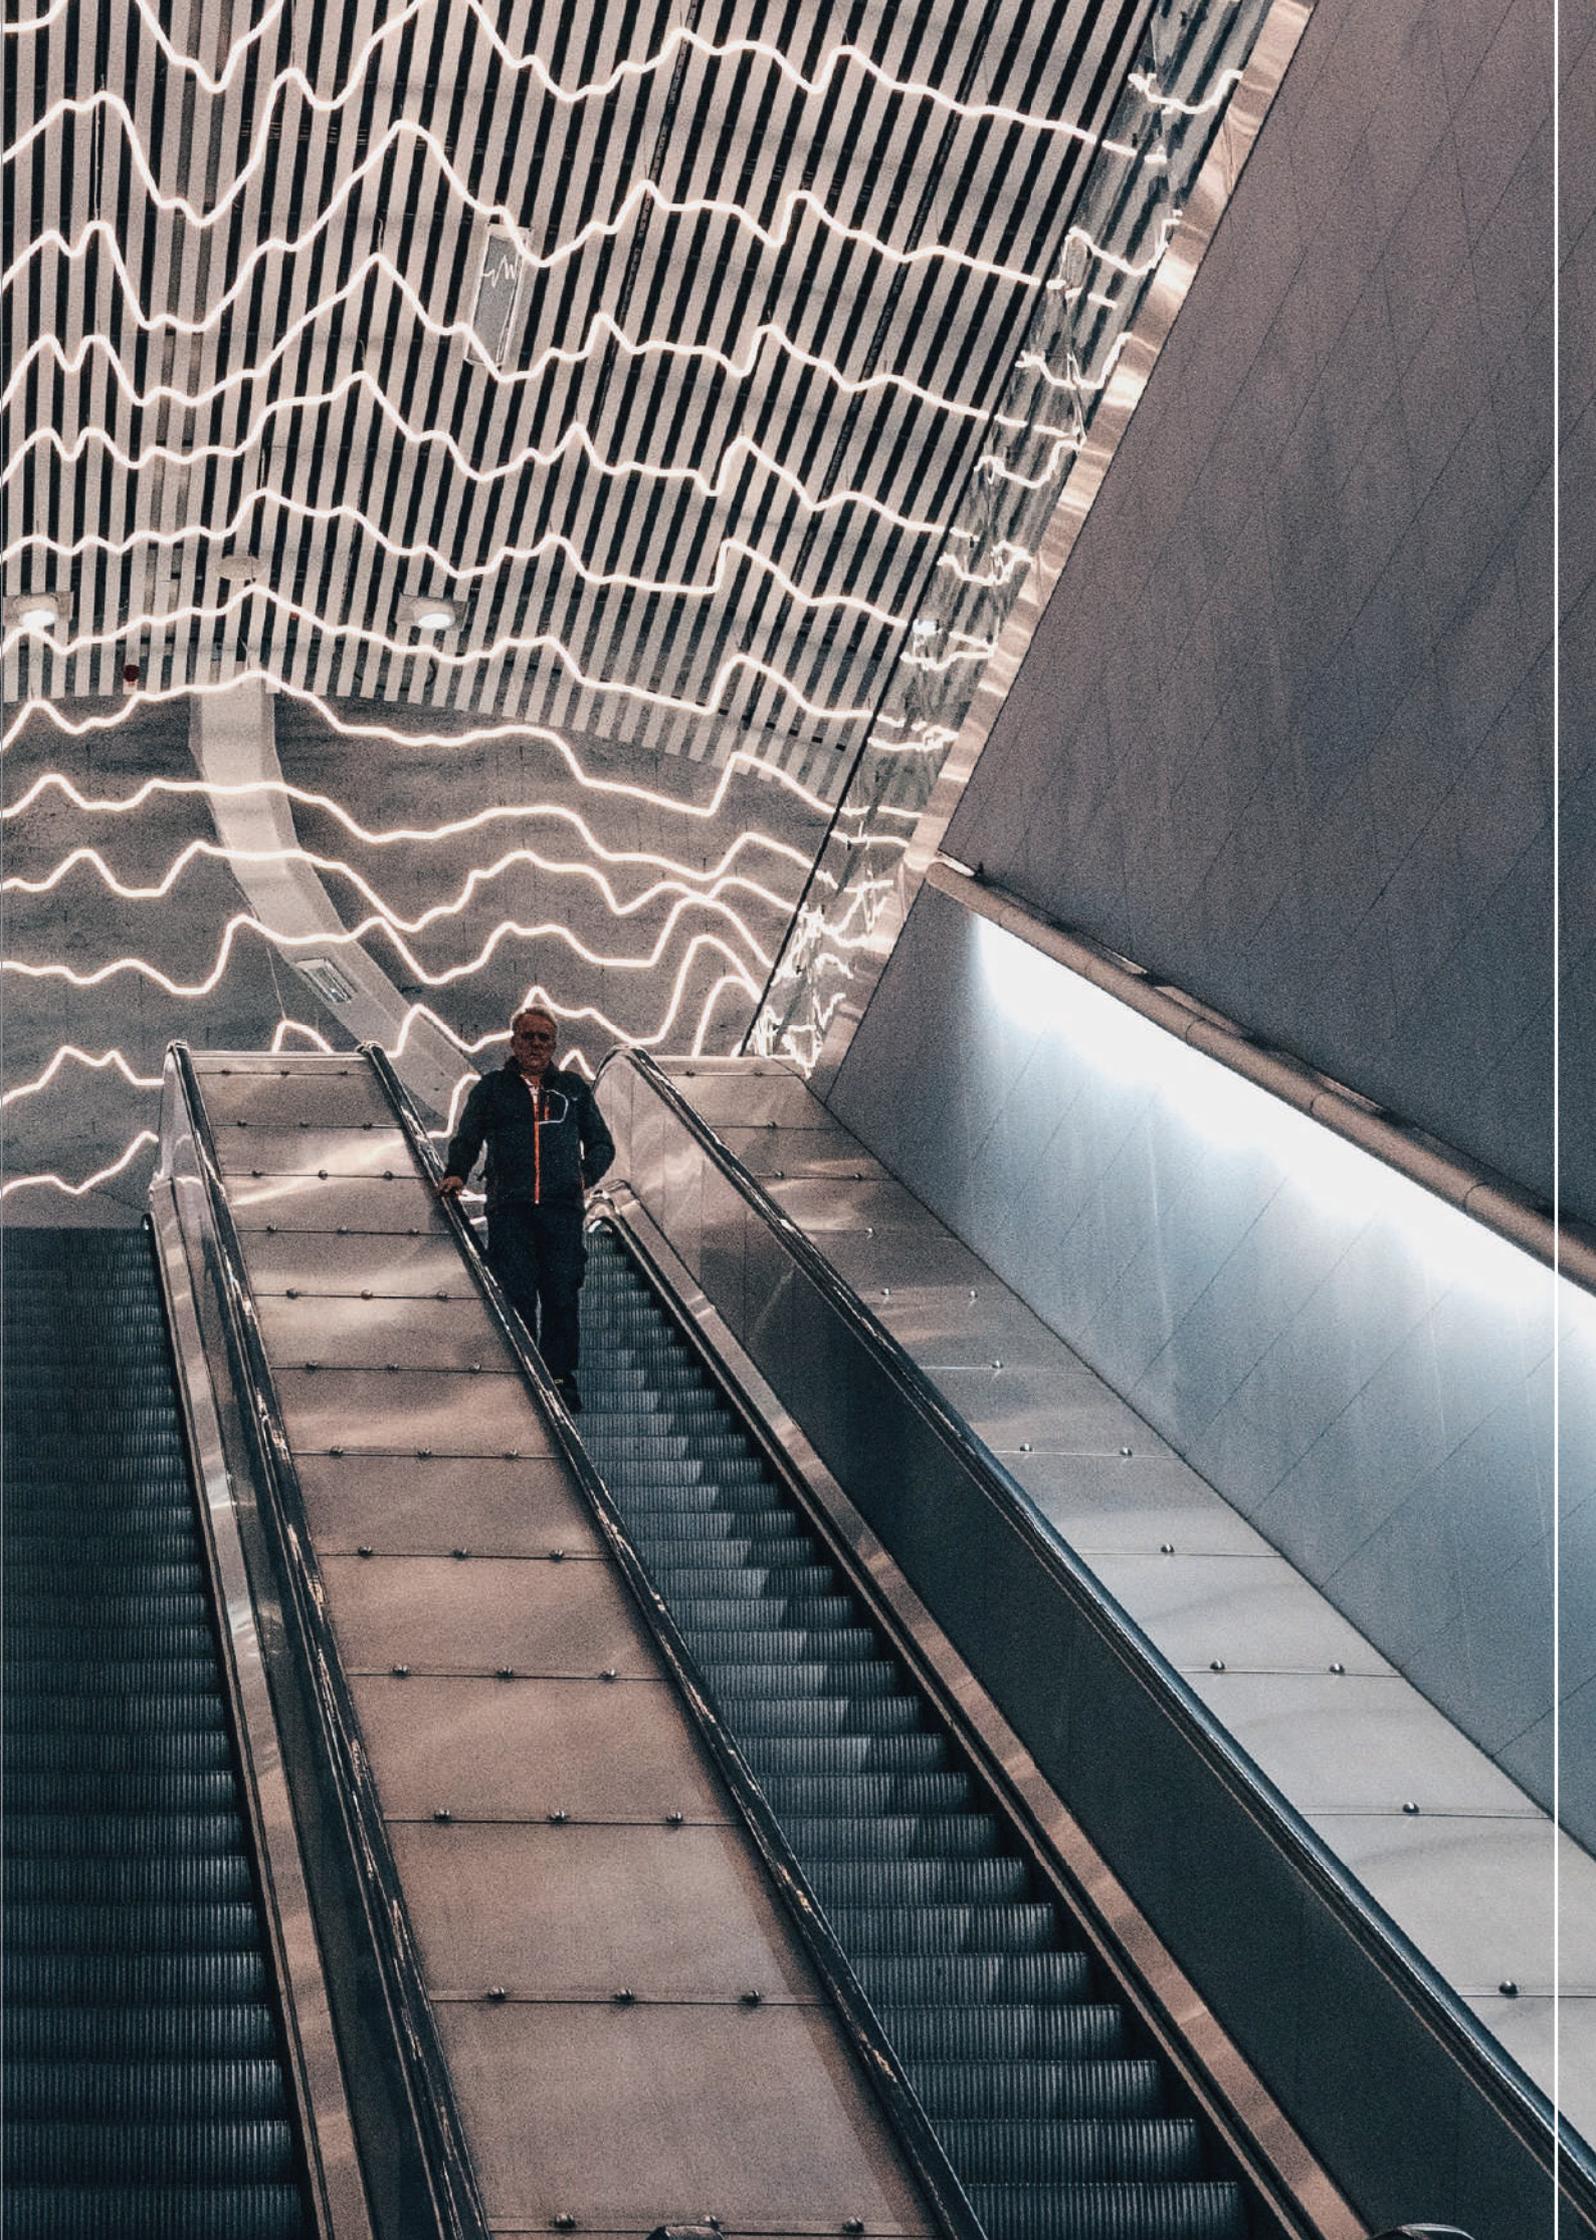

Upgrade vs. new installation.

Sometimes the smartest step is not a new installation. We consider the possibility of modernizing existing ones, if the equipment has a quality, where it makes sense to keep parts of it.

Take a break. Feel good.

We make sure you get there
